About the Artists

Anne McNamara is the Assistant Professor of Trumpet at Illinois State University where her duties involve teaching applied trumpet, coaching chamber music and performing in the I.S.U. faculty brass quintet. Dr. McNamara works regularly as a freelance trumpeter including performances with the Heartland Festival Orchestra, Champaign-Urbana Symphony, Owensboro Symphony, Louisville Orchestra and most recently as the flugelhorn solo chair with the Fountain City Brass Band.

In addition to performing, Anne also actively pursues the commission and performance of new works such as her commission of Carson Cooman's Sonata for Flugelhorn and Piano and the adaptation of Kevin McKee's A Winter's Night. In 2022, Anne also completed the first stage of her research on the history of women trumpet players by publishing an article on the topic in the International Trumpet Guild journal and presenting it at the International Women's Brass Conference. Actively involved in the International Trumpet Guild, Anne has taught and performed at several conferences and serves as the chair of the I.T.G. Young Artist Award Committee.

Dr. McNamara earned a BM in Music Education and a Jazz Studies minor from James Madison University, a MM in Trumpet Performance from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, and a DMA in Trumpet Performance from the University of Maryland. Her primary trumpet teachers include Chris Gekker, Steve Hendrickson, Dr. Michael Ewald, Ronald Romm, Tito Carrillo, and Jim Kluesner. Dr. McNamara is a Yamaha Performing Artist.

Violinist Igor Kalnin has performed internationally as a soloist, chamber musician, and an orchestra leader. A native of Russia, he started his professional career as a faculty member at Glinka State Conservatory in Nizhny Novgorod, Russia, and later joined Chamber Orchestra Kremlin in Moscow. After relocating to the United States in 2004, he served as Violin Instructor at Yale University and Assistant Professor of Violin at Luther College in Decorah, Iowa, as well as a leader for several orchestras on the East Coast and in the Midwest. Presently, he is Artist-Teacher of Violin/Assistant Professor at Illinois State University in Normal, Illinois.
